GREEN - Gunpowder

The English name "gunpowder tea" may derive from the Chinese "gang pao de", which simply means "fresh brewed". Gunpowder is a fresh, healthful, and slightly vegetal green tea.

GREEN - Jasmine scented tea

Our Jasmine tea is a fine green tea scented with jasmine flowers. Delicious any time of day.

BLACK - Earl Grey

Earl Grey is a black tea scented with oil of bergamont (it's a type of citrus fruit!). Though a favorite of both Queen Elizabeth and Captain Picard, don't be intimidated by its posh name; Earl Grey is simply a full-bodied black tea with the addition of a strong aromatic. Enjoy this vibrant tea any time of day.

BLACK - Assam

Assam teas are usually fully oxidized, dark, and robust and they typically make up the majority of the familiar English, Irish, and Scottish breakfast blends. Our assam is a bit lighter in body and not overly tannic or astringent. It is perfect for your usual morning tea and is light enough to be enjoyed in the afternoon as well.

The New Castle Blends

Amstel House Blend – Assam, Ceylon, Irish Breakfast Blend

Inspired by Dr. John Finney, a physician of Irish descent and building of the Amstel House, this tea is our very own Irish breakfast blend. Lighter than some Irish breakfast blends, here the robust and malty Assam is balanced by the more golden and rounded Ceylon tea. A perfect way to start your day as a doctor, house builder, or anything else!

Arsenal Blend – Black Tea Blend and Cardamom

Our Arsenal tea blend has as much character as the building it's named after! This tea has a strong, full-bodied character from its Assam base, with a light smokiness imparted from the Lapsang Souchong. A touch of cardamom ties it all together for a memorable cup of tea. Enjoy plain or sweetened and with a touch of cream.

Dutch House Blend – Black Tea and Spices

Historic New Castle saw the arrival and trade of many exotic spices during the colonial era. Our Dutch House blend is made from a base of rich black tea with orange peel, ginger, clove, allspice, and cardamom. Think of this blend as your early American chai! Enjoy plain, or sweeten and add cream for a truly sumptuous cup.

Read House Blend – Darjeeling and Assam Blend

A refined and superb tea fit for New Castle's Read House and Gardens, our blend is a trio of two Darjeeling teas sourced from several estates in India paired with a golden-tipped Assam. This blend is perfect for an elevated afternoon tea.

Court House Blend – Black Tea with botanicals

Our Court House tea is a blend of black assam, rose petals, hibiscus, hawthorn berries, blue vervain, tilia, and bergamot. Perfect for the lawyer, judge, or busy professional in all of us who wants a stimulating cup of tea with a touch of floral sweetness to soften the hard edges of the day.
